FEAR FOR FUTURE OF PUBLIC SERVICES

HONITON residents are fearful that the combined impact of cutbacks in public service provision currently facing the town could have a damaging and long-lasting effect, a special report by Pulman's View has revealed.

As this newspaper has reported in recent months, cash-strapped public bodies have been forced to look for savings and efficiencies to best manage dwindling budgets.

And their cost-cutting focus is affecting services across every aspect of public life, including:

- Day care services – Day services for older people at the St Michael's Day Centre will be stopped in phases, with the potential for services to be provided through alternative local facilities;
- Youth services – A recommendation to close Honiton's youth centre has been approved, with the nearest 'youth hub' facilities to be based in Exmouth;
- Community hospital beds – A service review on the provision of community hospital in-patient beds across East Devon is underway and a decision is expected in November and health bosses have given strong indications that the number of beds will be cut;
- Library services – A consultation on the future of Honiton's library ended this week and the facility is likely to be converted into a multi-functional 'Devon Centre' - it is not yet clear which services will be retained;

- Children's Centre services – A consultation on the future of children's centres across Devon has now closed and proposals are being drawn up, with the county council specifying its intention to reduce the number of children's centre buildings, focusing resources on the most deprived areas;

- Police Station front desk provision – Devon and Cornwall Police has confirmed its intention to close the enquiry point at Honiton Police Station and the proposals are due to be implemented, subject to a

■ BANGING THE DRUM | The Honiton Community College Samba Band (pictured) was just one of a series of creative arts projects on show during a unique event at the school recently. The college opened its doors to visitors to showcase the best of its arts departments in a joint exhibition of creative talent. GCSE and A Level projects across the fields of art, photography, textiles and graphic design were displayed to guests, and visitors also enjoyed musical and dramatic recitals from some of the school's top performers. Following a successful funding bid for a new technology and languages block, the college's senior leadership team is already working on a second bid, with plans to build extra classroom facilities for the creative arts departments.

Quotes of the week...

“UNDER the brokerage system, all care homes will see James's information - every part of his life - and bid for him.

“Presumably, the lowest bid will win and that is where he will have to go, but that could be anywhere in Devon.

“James is a person, not a piece of meat. The way he is being treated is inhumane.”

OTTERY resident Emma Knight on her plight to secure accommodation and expert care for her severely disabled brother James

“THE town is already lacking in resources for young people and they are being offered very little to do outside of school hours.

“This is affecting not only young people going out and being active, but also their social capacity - and that is when the problems start to snowball.

“There are various mechanisms for young people to access advice and facilities, but they are being cut off and the repercussions of that could be quite severe.”

HONITON Town Council's 'Youth Champion' Henry Brown on the cuts to local public services

“COLYTON already has all of the sport and recreation monies that were generated by developments in Colyford and voted on by the majority in Colyton...

“... Much of the time spent in parish council meetings is regarding Colyton matters and problems. None of these affect Colyford but take up council effort and time, which could be partly used to help Colyford...

“... We are the poor relations, completely outvoted on any form of referendum in the parish. Can the council give me any good reasons as to why these matters should be allowed to continue in this unbalanced situation?

THE Mayor of Colyford, Howard West, who has claimed village residents are not getting a fair deal by being grouped with neighbouring Colyton, has asked councillors to consider its future as part of the parish.

AXMINSTER

Delay to flood prevention plan

FLOOD prevention work in Willhay Lane, Axminster has been delayed by about six months.

The bad news was confirmed when Axminster Town Council met on Monday of last week.

One year ago, Devon County Council announced that a hydraulic model of River Axe would be produced to provide the required information to design a suitably-sized culvert/bridge opening in Willhay Lane.

The modelling work would be handled by the Environment Agency, but there has been a delay.

Town, district and county councillor Andrew Moulding read a letter to fellow town councillors from Devon County Council saying: "As it stands we have been delayed approximately six months due to the Environment Agency's flood modellers slipping from their original timetable.

"There has also been the added complication whereby the outputs that have been supplied to us do not go into the level of detail that we require in order to accurately design the works.

"So we are having to carry out additional analysis to ensure that our completed scheme does not increase the level of flood risk elsewhere, including compromising the railway."

The letter was read after Axminster resident David Samways asked for a progress report during the town council meeting.

The letter also said: "Whilst the modelling has been on-going we have engaged with our Engineering Design Group (EDG)

"They are currently in the process of drawing up indicative designs for the scheme, which will then be developed and firmed up once we have an exact output from the hydraulic modelling.

"Shortly the EDG are also going to initiate conversations with land owners who will be affected by the physical works. These include the land owner upstream of the Willhay Lane culvert, the land owner between the Willhay Lane culvert and the railway line, Network Rail and the land owner downstream of the railway line."

From the editor's chair A real holiday Experience

MANY thanks to those of you who have contacted me by telephone or email to congratulate us on our new publication, The Seaton, Beer & Colyton Experience.

The purpose of the full-colour magazine is to provide visitors to the Axe Valley with a comprehensive guide to all that is happening in and around Seaton during the peak season.

I am pleased to say we have received an excellent response from readers and advertisers. One leading member of the community was kind enough to say that it was the most positive publication about the Seaton area she had ever read. That's nice to hear because we are often accused of reporting the negative aspects about Seaton in particular.

Collating the material for the publication made us realise just how much is going on in the area. Who said Seaton is dead?

We also focus on the area's main holiday attractions, including the Seaton Tramway, the Wetlands, Pecorama and Beer Quarry Caves as well as featuring some of the more popular restaurants, cafes and pubs in the area.

The Seaton, Beer & Colyton Experience has been circulated to tourism outlets throughout the Axe Valley, which will be topped up as copies run out throughout August and September.

If you would like to get a free copy they are available at the Tourist Information Centre, Town Hall and all the main holiday attractions throughout the Axe Valley.

A number of you have asked whether we will be publishing further issues of The Experience. The answer to that is a definite "yes". Next year we are planning two issues, one at the start of the season and one mid-season when the main summer activities kick in.

● I'M having a few days off to help plan my eldest daughter's wedding next year. She lives in Australia so her homecoming has been long awaited in the Evans' household. We plan to make the most of the few days she will be with us before she flies off to Galway to meet her prospective in-laws.

I am, in fact, writing this column under a gazebo on my patio at home and I can't help but reflect that it seems like only yesterday that my daughter and her younger sister, Francesca, now our Colyton reporter, were playing happily as kids on our lawn.

Where have all those years gone?

SIDMOUTH

Foul smelling sewers set to be cleared

A MASSIVE build-up of food waste, fatty deposits and other debris will be drained from Sidmouth's sewers by the end of the month, South West Water has confirmed.

Specially assigned contractors began clearing out the town's pipes last night (Monday) and are due to finish the major clean-up job next week.

Concerns were first raised in April about the state of Sidmouth's sewers, when foul-smelling waste surfaced on the Esplanade and disrupted the Scouts' St George's Day parade.

Angry residents kicked up a stink about the conditions and East Devon MP Hugo Swire stepped in to urge the authorities to take action.

And now South West Water has confirmed the work will be carried out and the threat of any bad smells dealt with in time for the start of Sidmouth's Folk Week celebrations.

Richard Gilpin, Head of Waste Services at South West Water, said: "As well as fat and food waste, we expect to encounter lots of debris washed into the sewers during the extremely wet weather earlier this year.

"Removing this build-up will increase the capacity of the sewers and prevent blockages and bad smells."

The giant masses of waste, or 'fatbergs', build up when grease and other unsuitable deposits are poured down sinks and into the sewage network.

Water agencies up and down the country spend millions of pounds every year clearing clogged sewers.

Mr Gilpin added: "We have timed the work so that it will be finished before Sidmouth Folk Week starts on Friday, August 1st.

"We will do our best to keep any disruption to an absolute minimum."

COLYTON & COLYFORD

Independence for Colyford?

THE Mayor of Colyford has claimed village residents are not getting a fair deal by being grouped with neighbouring Colyton, and has asked councillors to consider its future as part of the parish.

Mayor Howard West, who also sits on Colyton Parish Council, raised the issue of the future of Colyford as part of the parish at last week's meeting, saying that residents did not get enough in return for the amount of council tax precept they paid.

Councillor West said he wanted to bring the issue forward as he was under pressure from Colyford residents who voted for him, saying many of them had asked "what are we really getting out of being part of Colyton parish?"

Councillor West said he was "increasingly alarmed" about how Colyford would be protected as part of Colyton parish in the future. He claimed that Colyford made up 24 per cent of the total parish population this year, but paid £12,331 of the council tax precept, equivalent to 28 per cent.

He asked members of the council what the village received in return, adding: "In my 13 years as a resident and three years as a councillor, we have got the following: two village gateways, £9,000 for the Colyford Memorial Hall refurbishment and two bus shelters from Devon County Council, but only one painted to date by John, our handyman, after a wait of over a year!"

Charity skydive II

■ MEMORIES | Phil and his son Rohan John visiting Phil's father John

A FORMER Honiton man is about to make a second skydive for charity.

Phil Loader, who grew up in Honiton and now lives in nearby Feniton, will do the skydive to raise money for Children's Hospice Southwest.

Phil said: "To cut along story short, my dad died of cancer three years ago.

"I spent a lot of time with him and my son, who was eight months at the time, at the hospice in Exeter."

His dad, John, worked at Honiton Hospital and Honiton Bungalow, and Phil said: "We talked one day at the hospice about how devastating it would be to have a terminally ill child.

"We couldn't imagine how hard it would be, seeing as we were in the hospice with adults, and it was so emotional and challenging, it must be so heart-breaking for parents with ill children, something I just can not imagine, especially being a father myself."

Phil admits it was a difficult to decide which charity to support, saying: "I had said to my dad that I want to raise money for the hospice in Exeter one day, as it helped my dad so much, and the staff were so amazing.

"But I can think of nothing more painful than having a terminally ill child, and on August 27th I am doing a 15,000ft skydive to raise money for Children's Hospice Southwest.

"I have done a skydive in the past for Devon Air Ambulance Trust, but this is something very personal to myself and close to the heart.

"I would be so grateful for any donation at all. This is for such a good cause."

Donations can be made online at www.justgiving.com/Phil-Loader

Cuts set to affect us all

consultation ending this month (the nearest enquiry desk will be based in Exeter).

Devon County Council, which operates many of the services under threat, last month issued an all-party plea to Local Government Secretary Eric Pickles to put a stop to the cuts.

And if no further action is taken, the council's annual budget will have been slashed by a third over an eight-year period.

In a letter to Mr Pickles, the county's political leaders said that further cuts to front-line services would affect "vulnerable sectors of Devon's population".

Each announcement has been met with concern by Honiton residents, who have fought on a number of fronts to keep public services intact.

But the cumulative impact of the cost cutting is now being felt and there is anger that community facilities are being ripped away from local people across all sections of society.

Tony Simpson, a spokesperson for Honiton Senior Voice, said older residents were facing a "double whammy" of problems, with cuts to key services mounted on top of falling incomes.

He told Pulman's View: "Vulnerable older people are feeling the impact of the rising costs of home care services, which is not keeping pace with their income.

"Those who are losing St Michael's Day Centre feel very angry and helpless – they cannot understand why this is happening."

The planned closure of St Michael's sparked public outcry when proposals were first announced earlier this year, and councillors carried a petition containing hundreds of signatures to County Hall in Exeter.

The TRIP community transport association has joined Honiton Senior Voice in vocalising its concerns for carers like Jackie Wadsworth, who is now preparing to look after her elderly mother for an extra four days a week.

Mrs Wadsworth already provides care for her husband, who suffers from COPD emphysema, which causes breathing difficulties.

She said: "My mother is coming up to her 92nd year and she has nowhere to go – her only bit of life has been going to the day centre. We simply do not know what is going to happen or when.

"It is not fair on her – she does not just lose the care, she loses the friendship and the company."

There is particular concern that the most vulnerable in the community are bearing the brunt of budget cut-backs, with Honiton's younger residents, as well as its senior citizens, facing the loss of key services.

Honiton Town Council's 'Youth Champion' Henry Brown said services were interlinked and one decision after another could have a "snowball" effect on the lives of Honiton's young people.

He added: "The town is already lacking in resources for young people and they are being offered very little to do outside of school hours.

"This is affecting not only young people going out and being active, but also their social capacity – and that is when the problems start to snowball.

"There are various mechanisms for young people to access advice and facilities, but they are being cut off and the repercussions of that could be quite severe."

Anxious members of the local community are working to find ways of maintaining services in line for cuts, and Honiton Community College has initiated discussions to ensure the survival of the youth centre building.

But many residents are facing major changes to their daily lives that could have a lasting effect.

And Caroline Kolek, the Labour Parliamentary Candidate for the Honiton and Tiverton constituency, said the "shameful" decisions being taken were "destroying the community."

She added: "We are the only county in Europe where the brunt of the burden of the deficit has been placed upon welfare and social cuts.

"This one-club policy has so far resulted in the loss of funding for the youth centre, the loss of funding for St Michael's and now potentially the loss of funding for our hospital.

"If you ever thought these cuts would not affect you, they are doing so now."

Details on many of the changes to public services and ongoing consultations can be found at www.toughchoices.co.uk

Schools join forces across the border

IN a first for a Devon, Hawkchurch Primary School has entered into a management partnership with a school in Somerset, Winsham Primary.

The agreement will bring huge benefits for these two small, rural primary schools, creating learning opportunities for the children as well as benefits for the teachers and support staff to share training, planning and each other's expertise.

Last week, the schools held a joint sports day and more shared events are planned in the autumn term. Both schools already have fantastic resources, small class sizes and superb outdoor fields for sports, gardening and playtime.

The new joint headteacher, Sarah Stringer, has been the head at Winsham for four years. She said: "I am delighted to have been chosen to work with Hawkchurch Primary School and can already see many benefits for the schools as we start to work closely together."

"Having the schools in different counties will raise a few challenges, mainly for administration, but actually they are only five miles apart as the crow flies."

Both schools are also part of the Willows Schools Co-operative Trust, a collaborative working partnership which has brought together six primary schools in the area, as well as a number of associate members who bring expertise and other skills to the trust.

Retail park application

DEVELOPERS have applied for planning permission to begin work on a new retail park on the edge of Exeter.

The multi-million-pound complex could include a range of shops and services, including restaurants, a gym, day nursery facilities and a range of clothing and sports outlets.

If approved, work could get underway on the new retail park – to be named the 'Moor Exchange' – as soon as spring next year.

Honiton business owners previously raised concerns about the possibility of a major shopping complex pulling people away from the town centre.

Town council welcomes new member

HONITON Town Council has co-opted a new member to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of former mayor David Foster.

Two candidates came forward for the position, and councillors voted in favour of Jackie Wadsworth.

A carer for her elderly mother and ill husband, Mrs Wadsworth said she was particularly passionate about helping the town's older generation.

She also expressed concern about planning developments in the town.

Town to honour its war heroes with civic service

by Jack Dixon

HONITON will play its part in commemorating the start of World War I with a civic service to be held in the town, it was confirmed this week.

Residents will join with communities up and down the country in marking the centenary anniversary of the war, in a show of respect to those who lost their lives at home and overseas.

The special service will take place at St Paul's Church on the afternoon of Sunday, August 17th, and Honiton's Mayor Peter Halse has urged the community to join councillors and ex-servicemen in tribute to the fallen.

Councillor Halse said: "The First World War was an absolutely terrible conflict with appalling carnage on the front lines.

"It is so important we commemorate all those people who bravely gave their lives for our freedom."

He added: "It was not just men who lost their lives in battle, but women too – and Honiton lost a large number of its citizens to the conflict.

"There were 12 who died in the tiny village of Broadhembury alone and that happened all over the country.

"It would have been wrong to let the year pass without some commemorative event and a church service will be the right way to honour those who left Honiton and never returned."

Services will be taking place across the country to mark the anniversary of the outbreak of war.

Details of the St Paul's service are yet to be confirmed but Councillor Halse said it would be "general" and appropriate for any members of the community who wish to pay their respects to attend.

A unique exhibition will also be opening at Honiton Library this week, documenting one man's experience of the conflict.

Community historian Tony Simpson will be displaying a series of trench letters to tell the story of his grandfather - 'Sapper' James Morris - a Royal Engineer killed in Flanders during the war.

Ahead of the exhibition opening, Mr Simpson said: "Much of the commemoration of the First World War naturally focuses on those who fought, and especially those who died - I wanted to show the impact on wives and families who also paid the supreme sacrifice for many years after the war."

A civic service will be held at St Paul's Church on Sunday August 17th, starting at 3pm, and the 'Documents of a Great War Soldier' exhibition will open at Honiton Library on July 26th.

TEA BREAK | Members of the Honiton Royal British Legion Women's Section sat down for a cup of tea and a bite to eat this week, in a bid to raise funds towards the organisation's ongoing appeals. The Devon Cream Tea event was held at the Methodist Hall, and raised more than £100 towards the cause. The event was well-attended by committee members, who also collected two pence pieces for the Legion's upcoming '2p Mile Challenge', for which fundraisers are trying to collect a mile worth of 2p coins. The Legion's Women's Section holds a bingo evening in Mackarness Hall on the first Monday of each month.

New golf training centre opens

ON COURSE | Members of Honiton Golf Club celebrated the grand opening of a new indoor training centre at the club this week, after the culmination of a 12-month project to improve facilities. Hi-tech equipment inside the new centre will enable players to practice on a range of virtual courses during the winter months, and receive specialist coaching sessions from PGA Professional Adrian Cave (pictured, centre). The training centre also includes an indoor putting green and facilities to record and analyse players' technique. Opening the centre last week, Mr Cave said: "This absolutely is state-of-the-art technology and there is nothing else like it in the area - the centre is just one of the ways we are investing in Honiton Golf Club for the future." Mr Cave is pictured with club captain John Graham (centre left), chairman John Cheuu (centre right) and other members at the opening of the new centre.

Big appetite for new venture

A LOCAL start-up will be hosting the first ever Honiton 'Grub Club' at Mackarness Hall this week.

The dining event, organised by Michelin-trained chef Josh McDonald-Johnson, will celebrate locally-sourced, seasonal produce, with a three-course meal served up for hungry visitors.

Ahead of the event, which takes place on Friday (July 25th), Mr McDonald-Johnson said: "Here in Devon we are exceptionally lucky to have top-quality produce so readily available and it is really important that events like this are held to support the rural economy.

"The reaction from local people and businesses has been great and there seems to be a real appetite for an alternative dining experience where we can show our support together for the local farmers, fishermen, gardeners and artisan suppliers in the area."

Diners can expect three courses of local fare for £20 per person.

More details can be found at www.pickleshack.co.uk or by emailing josh@pickleshack.co.uk.

Crime slightly down

RECORDED crime in Honiton was down by one offence last month, police officers have announced.

Informing councillors at a recent meeting, PCSO Steve Mingo said there had been 42 recorded offences between June 10th and July 14th, one fewer than for the same period last year.

Those crimes included 10 assaults, 11 thefts and four cases of criminal damage to vehicles.

Seaton At War – a new book by Ted Gosling

"ALTHOUGH not in the front line of the Second World War, Seaton had its share of privation.

"It was home to many evacuees, some of whom stayed in the area after the war.

"The town was also the site of an internment camp, and home to soldiers from many lands, some of whom were killed fighting for the British cause. Seaton families also lost sons of the war, many of them in heroic circumstances.

"It was a time when the community came together in a way which had not been seen before or since."

So starts the opening chapter, 'Our Finest Hour', in a new book by Seaton historian and Freeman of the Town, Ted Gosling, entitled Seaton And East Devon In The Second World War.

BOOK REVIEW by Philip Evans

Ted, who has many personal vivid memories of growing up during the war years in Seaton, has collected many fascinating and moving memories from local people about their own experiences during those dark days, much in the public psyche at the moment due to the 70th anniversary of the D-Day landings in which American GIs stationed in Seaton played such an important part.

The book also includes fascinating and moving accounts of many men and women from the Seaton area who served in the Armed Forces throughout the war, including the reminiscences of Peggy Ball, former Seaton Town Council chairman who was a captain in the ATS.

In her forward to the book, Town Mayor Gaynor Sedgwick reflects on how lucky Seaton is to have a historian such as Ted Gosling, curator of the town museum and a prolific author, to document and preserve Seaton's rich history.

Councillor Sedgwick writes: "Ted's own recollections as a young lad growing up in Seaton are a window into a different era.

"Community spirit is alive and well in Seaton but what a demonstration of community spirit it was when a trench the length of the beach was dug by local people, young and old, to prevent the enemy from landing on our beach."

Councillor Sedgwick said

Seaton should be proud of its past and the men and women who lived and worked in Seaton and East Devon at that time.

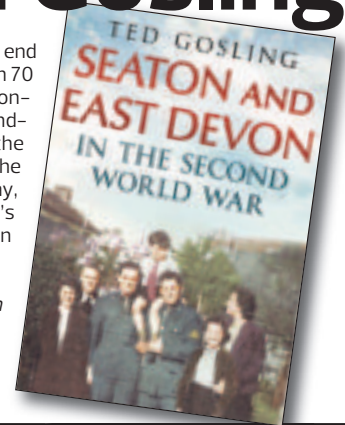

"Many left, fought in the war and paid the ultimate price. Their sacrifices enable us to live the lives we live today in freedom and peace."

She describes the book as being "full of real stories – of how it was for local families, the loss, hardship, the joys and the sheer bravery and determination of many local men and women".

The book ends with a record of how Seaton celebrated the end of hostilities and, moving on 70 years, how the USA has honoured the town for the kindnesses shown to the American GIs stationed in the town in the run-up to D-Day, celebrated in last week's plaque unveiling ceremony in Windsor Gardens.

Which is the greatest story of all time?

■ HARRY Barton, chief executive of Devon Wildlife Trust, that has been tasked with running the planned Jurassic Coast visitor centre in Seaton, states that it will be "...all about telling the greatest story ever – the incredible journey of life over millions of years".

Acceptance of Darwinism and belief in "millions of years" has always been presented in the context of a religious narrative that is in opposition to Christian faith. For Christians, the greatest story to tell is the one that surrounds the person and work of Jesus Christ.

Those who developed belief in evolution and deep time in the 18th century were committed to Greek paganism and Hinduism, people such as Benoit De Maillet, and Charles Darwin's own grandfather Erasmus Darwin. This commitment to millions of ages was prior to scientific justification and arose from pagan interests. Also, from private letters, Charles Lyell's stated aim was to undermine the biblical text (I have written about this in my book "Cracking the Darwin Code", available on Amazon).

As a result, the science of geology is damaged and fails to answer important questions about the fossils. When you get close to the fossils, you find evidence of rapid burial through many conformable layers, and this is consistent with the biblical account of a global flood, not uniformitarianism.

Delicate insect wings and wood are buried next to marine ammonites; scelidosaurus and ichthyosaurus fossils are found with skin impressions and stomach contents left; and the soft tissue, such as ink sacs, of some belemnites is found encased in stone.

While I welcome the centre, I would urge children to look past the "millions of years" dogma and ask searching questions about the evidence they see before them.

ANDREW SIBLEY,
Mount Hill, Colyton

Money for essential spent in wrong areas

■ TWO letters in Pulman's View (June 24th) are really connected - I refer to the ones from Dr Tim Burke and Howard West.

The first asks for views on the future of healthcare in Devon, unfortunately I could not find the website that Dr Burke referred to but the implication in his letter is that we have make do with less money.

Howard West, who has worked hard to get the Stop Line Way cycle route completed, has had funds diverted for the final link in the route.

Since we are the sixth largest economy in the world it beggars belief that we cannot provide funds for essential services and small infrastructure projects. There is plenty of money but it is spent in the wrong areas, £11 billion in foreign aid, we need the aid not rich countries like India which has its own space programme. Then of course there is the £55 million a day we pay to belong to the EU club, that as well as looking at the vast increase there has been in middle management would solve many of our problems in the NHS.

I could go on but in the next few months you will hear a lot about direct democracy where we the people are given more say in how our elected representatives at all levels of government do their jobs.

ALEC YATES,
Springfields, Colyford

Council still committed to allotment provision

■ I WRITE with regard to the letter "Cedar's outcome is 'good news for everyone'" (Pulman's View From Honiton, July 15th).

In the letter, East Devon district councillor Mike Allen is saying that, despite his repeated suggestion, the town council refused to consider the site at The Cedars, Otter Valley Park, in its ongoing search for an allotment site. In fact, the town council contacted the owners of this site in March 2011 and received a prompt reply advising that no land was available and hoped we would be successful in our search.

As part of the search for land for allotments the town council considers any potential site, undertakes searches at the Land Registry and follows these up by contacting land owners. To date, some 30 sites of various sizes in and around the town have been considered. The town council can of course only proceed if the landowner is willing to make land available.

The town council remains committed to fulfilling its statutory duty to provide allotments and regularly provides updates on progress to a representative of the Honiton Allotment Association.

The town council will be very pleased to hear from anyone who may have suitable land available. Please contact Sarah Jenkins, deputy town clerk on 01404 42957 or by email town-council@honiton.gov.uk

HONITON TOWN COUNCIL

Councillors to curb public speaking

■ THE "democratic deficit" - the present leader of East Devon District Council, when he was returned (unopposed) at the last district election, coined the above phrase, vowing to introduce greater democracy and transparency into local government.

So what has happened since? Well, among countless other examples of secrecy and undemocratic procedures, the council helped set up a business forum to promote the interests of their "customers" - no, not taxpayers but building developers. Then, after The Daily Telegraph's exposure of "Councillor-for-hire" Graham Brown, head of this business forum, the council's chief officer gagged the scrutiny committee whose task it should have been to investigate the forum's influence on planning.

Soon, too, on July 23rd, full council is to vote on a motion to curb public speaking at planning meetings. It is to be hoped that there will be a recorded vote at this meeting so that electors may know exactly which councillors voted to restrict the public's fundamental right to freedom of speech.

Sponsorship opportunity for Axminster student

■ I'M writing this letter firstly to alert people to the difficulties young people face in accessing further training, and secondly as a plea for sponsorship.

My name is Fern, I'm 17 and have lived in Axminster almost all my life. I currently work as an apprentice for Axminster Health and Wellbeing Centre where we offer a range of services including the local food bank.

I recently found a Level 2 Mental Health Awareness Course, starting in Dorchester in September. I feel this course would be a fantastic opportunity to develop a career as well as enable me to offer support to clients at the centre.

Having spoken to an agent from the training company I have discovered there is no funding available for people under the age of 19 to access this type of training. This raises the cost of the course from £392 to £811.

With all the stigma surrounding young people being unemployed, relying on benefits and wasting their education I find this lack of support upsetting.

I am a young person trying to further my education, brighten my career prospects and wanting to offer a service to our local community. I am therefore asking, if there is anyone who would be willing to sponsor me for part/all of the cost of this course to please get in touch via the Axminster Health and Wellbeing Centre on 01297 32331 or info@axminsterwellbeing.com

KILMINGTON residents with significant birthday this year were celebrated at a special party.

A significant birthday was defined by party organisers as "one that ends with 0", such as 10, 20, 30 and so on.

Many Kilmington folks have had or are about to have significant birthdays in 2014, so a "Noughty" celebration seemed in order.

Aged 0 to 100, about 120 people came to the party on the playing field on Sunday, July 13th.

One of those who helped organise the event, Judith Chapman, said: "The oldest lady present was 100-year old Mrs Vera Hoskins.

"The party started at noon, everyone brought a picnic, the marquee was awash with birthday cakes and Swing of the Axe generously gave of their time, helping to create a lively and happy atmosphere which was enjoyed by the many generations of village residents."

Michael Collier, chairman of Kilmington Parish Council and a "noughty" boy himself earlier this year, proposed a vote of thanks to all those who had helped with arrangements for this enjoyable event.

theW Women's Institutes INSPIRING WOM ROUND UP

ALL SAINTS & DISTRICT

GARDENING can take up a lot of our time and, for the most part, we thoroughly enjoy it, but it's always nice when you can sit back and admire the plants.

Members and guests of the All Saints & District WI did just that when Peter Cantrell from Day Spring Plants brought a large selection of beautiful plants to the meeting. Peter led members through the likes and dislikes of the cultivars, explaining on the way the best place to plant them and how to look after them.

Plants for shade and sun, borders, tubs and what would look good on a balcony were all discussed; the range was amazing and there was plenty of opportunity for questions.

At the end of the meeting members were able to buy the plants and cuttings were shared.

All Saints & District WI meet every second Tuesday of the month and the next meeting will be at 7.30pm on September 9th at All Saints Village Hall. Guests and new members will be warmly welcomed.

KILMINGTON

AFTER apologies for absence were taken, the minutes were read and arising from those, Kilmington WI members who put an entry into the Axe Vale Festival, were congratulated and thanked for their efforts.

There followed reports of the meetings at All Saints and the one at Uplyme where former MP Anne Widdecombe was the speaker. Both were reported to be excellent.

The Autumn Council meeting is to be at Barnstaple with Miranda Krestovnikoff, who was a presenter on "Coast", as principal speaker.

Members were asked to think about the club's centenary, which will be in September 2016.

Barbara has arranged a mystery trip and supper in August.

The speaker this month was Rosanne Beer who gave a delightful talk and demonstration about cake icing with lots of tips and techniques for the craft.

She showed members how to do brush embroidery using a fine paintbrush on a template demonstrating a butterfly and a heart. She was thanked by Joy.

The winner of the competition and flower of month was Phyllis.

The next meeting is on September 11th when Mark Seogalutze will let members into the secrets of preparing and cooking fish, 7pm in the village hall.

SEATON

PRESIDENT Ann Attridge welcomed 20 members and three visitors to the July meeting of Seaton WI held at Seaton Methodist Church Hall, which was not quite "A Mad Hatters Tea Party" but everyone enjoyed a wonderful afternoon, learning about the design and making of hats.

Members were invited to have their heads measured and were pleased to find that there were no "big heads" amongst the group!

They were then able to try on many different styles, all of which would have been quite at home at Royal Ascot.

The speaker Janet Williams entertained by giving a brief background of how she became a milliner, learning techniques from all over the world. She demonstrated how hats are hand blocked and how different materials are used to create different effects. Jan Probert gave the vote of thanks.

Flower of the Month: 1st Zelma Lindsay-Smith, 2nd Denise England and 3rd Jean Ailsopp Competition of "Your Favourite Hat": 1st Gwen Jackson, 2nd Ann Attridge, 3rd Denise England

August is a holiday month and therefore the next meeting will be held on September 16th when the speaker will be Wendy Hall. The group meets at 2pm at Methodist Church Hall and visitors and new members are always very welcome.

THORNCOMBE

THORNCOMBE WI met on July 8th in the village hall, where Tony Burgess was guest speaker.

His talk was about the Jurassic Coast of Devon and Dorset and he gave an extremely enthusiastic and knowledgeable presentation, illustrated by excellent slides - 75 miles of coast covering Exmouth to Old Harry Rocks was explored, without those present incurring any blisters!

Meg Terrett thanked Mr Burgess on behalf of members, after which the competition results were announced. Margaret Retter won Flower of the Month, with Julia Snellcock and Margaret Goldsborough coming second and third respectively.

The competition for a fossil or rock crystal was won by Brenda Sheasby, with Barbara Barnes and Julia Snellcock coming second and third.

The group will now break for the summer and the next meeting will be held on Tuesday, September 9th at 7.30pm, when Andy Kirk from Waitrose will speak on "Fish Expertise".

The competition is for a favourite fish recipe.

New members and visitors will be most welcome. Contact Julia Snellcock on 01460 30135 for more information.

FATHER Michael Koppell opens: "When all the news seems to be about conflict, you've got to ask where we can find real peace."

"Well, the gospels reveal that inner peace was a gift our Lord possessed to an outstanding degree – and was able to share with others. So where did his sense of peace come from? It came from his relationship with his Father; from his complete confidence in his Father's love. But that relationship is one our Lord empowers us to share."

"That's why we Christians are often called sons and daughters of God by adoption. And if we do share Christ's sonship, his peace will be ours. As Jesus said to his apostles at the Last Supper: 'My own peace I give you, a peace the world cannot give, this is my gift to you.'"

We expected to report this week on an historic note by recording the decision of the Church of England's General Synod on long-awaited proposals to admit women priests to the episcopate, thus expecting the first women bishops in 2015 or the following year at the latest. And so we can – the initial decision was well-received, and formal proceedings may now begin.

With the decision taken we can reflect on some of the implications. Continuing dissenting parishes will be able to ask a diocesan bishop to make arrangements to be cared for by a dissenting bishop. It is also good to know that the Chairman of the Catholic Group in the General Synod commented that the decision just needs greater trust. Generosity and mutual respect among those of differing views remains a need. Formal details of the two thirds majority in the three Houses of Synod in favour concludes the matter. Work on Canon Law will be needed but not on the decision in itself. Details can be found at www.churchnewspaper.com

Speculation has already started over names for the first appointments and these include those in present posts at York, Salisbury, St Paul's Cathedral and the earlier Rector of Honiton, now Dean of Norwich.

Lunchtime concerts continue with the Minster at Axminster offering on Thursday, July 24th at 12.30pm – music for two violins and a piano with free and light lunches.

Advance warning – Music at St Paul's, Honiton, offers a concert every Friday in August at 1pm to 1.45pm in aid of church, admission costs £5 with light lunches for £5

St Nicholas at Combe Raleigh has a Coffee Club in the village hall on Saturday, July 26th at 10am, and on next day, July 27th, from 2.30pm to 5.30pm cream teas and the Sheldon Singers will perform. Tickets costs £5 at the gate. This will be followed by Church Evensong at 6pm.

New Ministers of Religion, of whom there are many this year, may need to submit a self assessment tax return this and every year for the first time. Options open are to instruct a tax adviser to submit your return, file a return using specialist tax software, or preparare and file a personal paper tax return, by the due date!

Twenty two Cathedrals including Exeter are to share part of a government grant of £4.7million funded by the First World War centenary programme.

News of more help – this time for people. The Church Urban Fund has reported that some ten million people in England have been helped in their area during the past year. This information comes after a review by the CUF which was undertaken in a recent study and found that 51 per cent of those replying used food banks, financial advice, computer access, and youth work – all done through churches.

News from Ottery St Mary reflects the time of year – Coffee and Chat continues on Tuesday mornings in Ottery's Parish church from 10am to 11.30am. A welcome to many visitors and they are appreciative of the hand held guides available in so many different languages from across the world including Welsh!

A basket-making summer craft session will be held on July 30th from 10.30am to 12noon costing £3 for children who must be accompanied by an adult. The church is also preparing a WW1 Commemoration Service for 6.30pm on August 3rd, names of those killed, stories and artefacts are still being received – contact the church office 01404 812062 if you would like to share anything with us.

Darell Holmes from Kilmington concludes this week: "As schools break up, families are presented with the challenge of knowing their children are safely and constructively occupied. This can mean wonderful opportunities for days out and holidays, but few can manage these non-stop from now until schools return in autumn."

"Thankfully, Axminster churches, led by Kilmington Baptist Church, are running a holiday club for primary school children every morning from August 4th to 8th at Kilmington Village Hall. Under the title "Mission Rescue", they will be enjoying fun-filled sessions for just £5 for the week. Transport by bus is even offered from local areas. For details call 07785 767 441.

JAMES Turner is park manager at World of Country Life in Exmouth. Originally from Ipswich in Suffolk, he re-located to Devon last June with his new wife to be closer to both of their families, and the couple now live in Sidmouth.

● WHAT attracted you to work at World of Country Life, and how long have you been there?

I started working for World of Country Life in October 2013 so this will be my first full season. My background is in leisure and tourism and when I saw the job advertised, met the people here and visited the park I was eager to get the job! Great, friendly team of people in a park that has spent the last three years growing and improving each year, so clearly on the up! Looked like an exciting opportunity with a very varied workload and I was right!

● WHAT did you do before this?

I spent the last 15 years with a company called Kingswood, a provider of residential educational activity holidays and summer camps. They have centres all round the UK and in France and through various roles with them I had the opportunity to work in Norfolk, Staffordshire and the Isle of Wight. When I left them in May last year I was centre general manager of a 400-bed activity centre and summer camp on the north Norfolk coast.

● TELL us a little about World of Country Life...

The great thing about our park is that there really is something for everyone. The main attraction, I suppose, are the animals but we also have three different kids' soft play areas, as well as an outdoor adventure playground and indoor pirate ship play area. The area of the park I was most impressed with when I first visited was the museum and Hall of Transport. We have a mocked-up Victorian street, complete with pub, shops and a little cottage and a massive collection of farming machinery, as well as a hall full of steam engines and vintage and classic vehicles, some of which have appeared on 'Downton Abbey' and 'Mr Selfridge', and the Reg Imray Motorcycle Collection.

● WHAT'S your favourite attraction?

My favourite thing here is the Deer Train Safari. Our drivers are really chatty and give a running commentary with loads of interesting information as they drive the train out into the deer park. The deer and llama out there are so friendly they come right up to the train and eat food right out of your hand!

● WHAT does an average day for the park manager entail?

The best thing about my job is the variety – no two days are the same. I usually have quite a few emails to respond to, health and safety checks and ongoing maintenance tasks to prioritise and I try to get out of the office and around the park as often as possible.

● HAVE you got any special events or offers coming up?

We have a Summer Passport special offer which is great value over the school holidays – unlimited entry to the park for the six weeks of summer for less than two visits! We've also got Wild West Wednesday every week throughout the holidays as well as Pirate Week. Then at the beginning of September we're hosting the Vintage Classic Rally for the West Country Classic Vehicle Club. That's a hugely popular event that we put on every year.

● WHAT are your personal interests?

I'm a real outdoor type and like to keep pretty active. I'm training at the moment for Tough Mudder South West in August – I did it last year and it was great fun. My wife and I like to go mountain biking, walking, surfing, anything outdoors and near the sea really!

● WHAT do you like about the local area?

Sea and hills! The landscape around here is easy to take for granted when you see it every day but it really is a beautiful part of the world. It's nice to live in an area that's such a popular holiday destination.

● WHAT would you do if you won the Lottery?

Travel. It's been a little while since my backpacking days – Thailand, Cambodia, Malaysia, New Zealand, etc. but I would love to go back and explore further afield too. My wife and I would love to do Route 66 on motorbikes!

● WHERE'S your ideal holiday destination, and why?

Southeast Asia – the people are really friendly, it's great value for money and there's no schedule. Book your flights and sort everything else when you get there!

Soccer coach launches charity appeal

By Jack Dixon
jack@pemediaco.uk

ONE of East Devon's most popular community figures, who has coached thousands of budding young footballers during his career, is calling on his students past and present for their help in a major fundraising project.

Chris Webster, 68, has been working with children in East Devon for more than 25 years and believes he has coached around 100,000 youngsters, through school lessons and summer training camps.

A former coach at Southampton Football Club, Mr Webster is a well-known figure in the local area – and he is now looking to make the most of his connections to launch a £100,000 fundraising appeal for the CLIC Sargent cancer charity.

He said: "I first found out about the fantastic work of CLIC Sargent a few years ago when a friend's son was diagnosed with cancer. Some of these kids have so many problems that it stops their whole lives, and you just feel so helpless.

"Now celebrating 25 years working with children, I would like to give something back to this great cause, which helps families in Devon and across the UK with vital support."

Mr Webster is urging both his current and former soccer students and their family members to chip in with a £1 donation, and help him to reach the six-figure target.

He added: "I have been working with children as a coach for many years, helping them learn soccer and sports skills, boosting their confidence and encouraging them to keep fit.

Devon Air Ambulance Week

Sunday 27th July - Sunday 3rd August 2014

A whole weekend of Music for Seaton!

THIS year will see Seaton have its own Music Festival in aid of Devon Air Ambulance alongside our Seaton Air Ambulance week.

In the past we have had Music on the Seafront which has been affected by both good and poor weather with some of our best music days being washed out.

So we had to find a solution which would not only weather proof the music but also generate some money for our Devon Air Ambulance.

We have managed to put on a whole weekend of Music for Seaton to enjoy which we are hopeful will become an annual event to take on Sidmouth's Folk Festival and Lyme's Jazz festival.

The Wristbands are only £10 each for a whole weekend of Music with over 40 bands and acts playing and every single penny of this will go to Devon Air Ambulance as all the Artists have agreed to come and play for FREE.

All the artists are covering their own travelling costs with some band members living in London, Wales and other parts of the UK.

We are really thankful to them, if these people hadn't been so willing to come and support Seaton and Devon Air Ambulance none of this would have been possible.

Come out and enjoy the music, get behind this event buy your wristbands and get out and about town to be entertained and show your support for this great cause.

We would like to also thank the venues for agreeing to support us. Let's hope we have the biggest and best week yet.

Wristbands are on sale at the Gateway Box Office, Eyre Court Hotel, Hook & Parrot and Winston's. On the Esplanade 20th & 27th July and at the music festival venues 1st, 2nd & 3rd August.

72nd Axmouth Village Show

THIS year is the 72nd Axmouth Flower and Produce Show, it is likely to be the last. Despite concerted efforts over the past few years we have been unable to recruit new people onto the committee. Our esteemed and committed treasurer John Crowe is definitely standing down after this year's show, without a treasurer and a dwindling committee the show will not go on. There are a great band of volunteers who help out in the run up to and on the day of the show but we need more help. Villagers, it really is now up to you!!

For this year however we are delighted that long time village locals Hubert and Alison Morris will be opening the show.

We have chosen 'Fishing' as the theme for the show this year. Axmouth with its harbour shares a long tradition of fishing along with other East Devon coastal villages and towns. Lyme Bay scallops, crab and lobster are well known for their exceptional quality, as well as sea bass, pollack and mackerel.

As last year there are some changes to some of the classes so - Please do check the schedule, even if you are a seasoned exhibitor.

The gates open at 12.00 this year, even more time to enjoy the fun of the show. During the afternoon you will be entertained by Cyril the Squirrel and his Racing Terriers Display Team, Devon Bird playing live music, and Circus skills walkabout. A welcome return for the Children's Fancy Dress, Majorettes, races for all the family and lots, lots more.

As you know the show doesn't end when the produce is cleared away, but will continue into the evening with another fantastic band, this year it is 'Funky Dumpty'.

So, if this is to be the last, let's make this the best Show yet!!

Robert Sweetland,
Chairman

Brief Show History

THE show began in 1942 when a Red Cross fund raising committee was formed, led by a young Jim Cross and Len Weekes, a gardener at Stedcombe Manor. They decided that a grand fete was needed to lift the spirits and raise the much needed cash for this crucial part of the war effort. They were invited to hold the fete at Stedcombe Manor by its then owner, Miss Stephens.

The fete was an enormous success and the committee decided it would be repeated annually as a flower show each year, with a great array of home made goods on sale, as far as rationing would allow. When the war ended, the Dig for Victory campaign was in full swing and the Show transferred to the Webber's camp field, combined with the Village Produce Association and started raising funds for various charities including those for soldiers and seamen.

However, the rise of convenience foods and the general decline in vegetable growing meant that the Flower Show had gone into decline by the early eighties and at the same time costs had increased dramatically. A decision was taken to run the show in the Village Hall with stalls and fundraising in the car park. This provided an opportunity for a review of the Show, and a new committee then took forward plans for a major event in the centre of the village.

The offer of a field on an annual basis, from Lady Loveridge and her late husband, Sir John, has led to an increase in the size of the show.

We were unlucky last year, the rain came just before the show opened at 2pm and it didn't stop! It was one of the very few wet days in what turned out to be a long, hot and dry summer. Our spirits were not too dampened and although we made a loss there was enough good will to spur us on for this year. But good will on the part of so few of us is no longer enough to keep this show going.

So villagers if you do want to help and actively keep the show going next year please ring either John 01297 24780 or Judith 01297 24337 or Sue 01297 20965.

Branscombe Festival returns for second year

BRANSCOMBE once again plays host to some of the world's top musicians when the Branscombe Festival returns on Friday, July 25th until Sunday, July 27th.

Over three summer days, Branscombe Festival presents performances from leading classical and jazz artists in the picturesque village hall, the historic Saint Winifred's Church, and even on the beach.

Among the highlights of this year's festival are:

- International opera stars Ailish Tynan and Luis Gomes in a gala recital with pianist (and Radio 3 presenter) Iain Burnside;
- The UK's only fully-professional ragtime band, Albert Ball's Flying Aces with guest vocalist Patricia Hammond, who bring World War I favourites to life over cream tea;
- Chart-topping vocal ensemble I Fagiolini with theatrical interpretations of music from the Renaissance to the present day;

• Dance band The Leo Green Experience, back by popular demand with their late-night jazz gig

- Rising star cellist Philip Higham in a programme of Bach's glorious solo cello suites;
- A pop-up shop at all events from the famous London music store Les Aldrich, selling CDs, record players and vinyl.

A hog roast will also be on offer to audience members on the Saturday evening and the Festival culminates in a FREE concert on Branscombe beach by the Band of the Royal Marines.

Curated by renowned pianist Iain Burnside and hosted by BBC Radio 3 broadcaster and journalist Petroc Trelawny, the 2014 Branscombe Festival supports the Royal National Lifeboat Institution with a donation of 50p from every ticket sold.

Located within the East Devon Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty, Branscombe Festival was launched in July 2013 by local resident Ian Rosenblatt whose aim was to enable audiences to experience leading international musicians in an intimate, idyllic countryside setting.

Ian Rosenblatt says: "I'm thrilled that Branscombe Festival is back for a second year. I can't wait to build on the success of last year's festival and bring even more incredible talent from the worlds of opera, classical music and jazz to the beautiful setting of Branscombe village. We're looking forward to welcoming back some familiar faces from last year and hope that people from near and far will come to experience all that Branscombe Festival – and the surrounding area – has to offer."

Shanty Theatre return to Lyme Regis

IT IS night-time on Dartmoor and a cold wind whistles through the bracken and gorse, making them sing. Deep in his castle, the Story Giant is dying. Over the centuries he has gathered all the tales in existence. All that is, except one.

Tonight his very life relies on finding it.

Last seen at the Marine Theatre in 2012 with their hit production of 'The Rime of the Ancient Mariner', Shanty Theatre Company are notably recognised for effortlessly combining live music, clever ditties, pun-tastic jokes, vibrant characters, and storytelling at its very best for all the family to enjoy.

Join them this summer as they dash through story explosion after turbulent tale in The Story Giant (based on the book by Brian Patten). Expect skulls with overdeveloped conversational skills, gremlins playing Johnny Cash, dragons with strange culinary preferences, fountains of blood, mountains of music, a haunted tannoy speaker, The Duke of Edgbaston, laughs, shocks, surprises, and a white D reg BMW E30 convertible, in this adventure to find the last story on earth.

Adapted from the book by legendary Liverpool poet Brian Patten, this is a family production to be enjoyed by anyone of seven years and older!

The Story Giant will be performed at the Marine Theatre, Lyme Regis from Friday, July 25th to Sunday, August 10th and Thursday, August 21st to Thursday, August 28th. Tuesdays to Fridays: 7.30pm, Saturdays and Sundays: 6.00pm

Tickets are £9, £7 concessions, and family (2 adults, 2 conc) £28.00.

To book tickets, call the Box Office on 01297 442138 or visit www.marinetheatre.com

THE PRESIDENT'S SHOW

PRESIDENT of the Friends of the Beer Wurlitzer and resident of Honiton, Trevor Bolshaw, was on top form on July 12th, when he presented an afternoon of music from yesteryear on the Beer Wurlitzer.

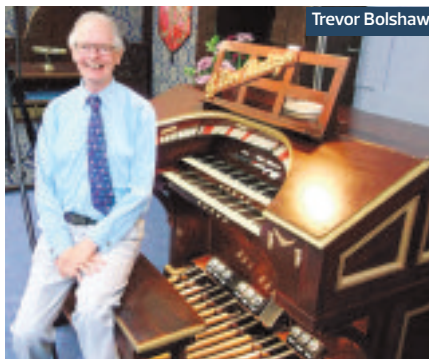

Trevor is an internationally acclaimed concert and broadcasting organist and his thoughtful programme of nostalgia commenced with film music from 1924 (when the Wurlitzer left the factory near New York and was installed at The Picture House in Walsall), followed by popular music from the thirties and forties. His medleys of ragtime, Fats Waller and Judy Garland were most popular and he put the Wurlitzer's percussion to the test with fun numbers of fire engines and locomotives which accompanied silent films.

Trevor is a native of Walsall and began studying music at the age of nine with the well-known Midlands broadcasting organist Leslie Taff. He has lived in Devon for over thirty years where he has been involved in teaching, recording and playing concerts, many times in the USA. One of his broadcasting credits was on the well-known BBC Radio 2 programme 'The Organist Entertains'. We are fortunate to have such an accomplished musician living in the area and the warmth of his final ovation demonstrated the appreciation of the audience for his musical excellence. Thanks too must go to his wife Mary who provided the delicious refreshments.

On Saturday, August 9th, at 2pm, one of the UK's top theatre organists, Michael Wooldridge, will be presenting an afternoon of musical entertainment. Shows are held at the Congregational Church, Fore Street, Beer, EX12 3JQ - admission is £7 on the door which includes interval refreshments. For further information please visit www.beerwurlitzer.org.uk

Brand new homes just released in Seaton

MARK Goodenough of Pennys Fine & Country is delighted to announce the release of this exciting new, high quality, traditionally built development within just five minutes walk of Seaton town centre.

The development comprises just nine houses with the range including, two bedroom semi-detached, three storey three bedroom town houses, three bedroom detached, a detached two bedroom coach house and a four bedroom detached house (now reserved).

Mark commented 'Axe Cliffe View promises to be a very popular new development in Seaton, in fact we have reserved two of the properties pre-launch, which demonstrates the appetite from the buying public for freehold purchases in individual, well situated sites rather than just another mass housing development of hundreds of similar units.

The prices range from £199,950 to £384,950 with the properties available to reserve 'off plan' at this early stage'. For a full brochure of Axe Cliffe View or for further assistance please call Pennys Fine & Country on 01297 22224 or log onto www.pennys.net

Hypnotherapy
Helping to cope with stress and anxiety

Anxiety and stress can often create symptoms that in time cause illness. Anxiety is known to produce noticeable physical symptoms, such as rapid heartbeat, high blood pressure, and digestive problems. In General Anxiety Disorder (GAD) and Social Anxiety Disorder (SAD) the symptoms become so severe that normal daily functioning. Clinical Hypnosis and Cognitive behavioural therapy (CBT) are common treatments for stress and anxiety disorders and can be very effective in changing thinking and responses.

In contrast with CBT and in many ways very similar to Hypnosis Mindfulness and mindfulness-based therapies (MBTs) seek to change the relationship between the anxious person and his or her thoughts.

In mindfulness, the person focuses on the bodily sensations that arise when anxious. Instead of avoiding or withdrawing from these feelings, the focus is on remaining present and fully experiences the symptoms of anxiety. Instead of avoiding distressing thoughts, opening up to them in an effort to accept that they are not literally true, just ideas and imaginings often related to the past or future events but no less unreal in the present.

By remaining present in the moment aware of the breath and the body, individuals can learn that the anxiety they experience is merely a reaction to thoughts. By positively responding to threatening events instead of being reactive they can overcome a mistaken stress fight-or-flight response, and take control of their life.

The New BMW i8 – The Future of the Supercar

BMW's most advanced sport cars ever offered for sale. The BMW i8 is a plug-in hybrid performance vehicle that uses a three cylinder turbocharged petrol engine, with a 1.5-litre capacity, in conjunction with an electric motor to provide searing acceleration but in a package that takes BMW's EfficientDynamics philosophy to a new high, posting just 49g/km and 135mpg figures in the process.

Design: Visible efficiency with aerodynamic optimisation on a detailed level.

The design of the BMW i8 brings together hallmark BMW dynamics, lightweight design and efficiency. The 2+2-seater is immediately recognisable as a BMW i model and a new-generation sports car. A length of 4,689mm, width of 1,942mm and height of 1,298mm give the BMW i8 typical sports car proportions. Its dynamic character is also reflected in its long bonnet, clearly visible aerodynamic aids, stretched roofline, short overhangs and long, 2,800mm, wheelbase. The car's wide track (1,644 millimetres at the front axle, 1,715 millimetres at the rear) completes the powerful dynamic presence generated by the car's proportions.

The structure of overlapping and interlocking surfaces also contributes to the unmistakable appearance of the BMW i8. This layering principle allows aerodynamic forms to be wrapped up in a progressively styled package, while powerfully formed wheel arches draw attention to the wide track of the BMW i8. The compact construction allows the front and rear sections of the car to be particularly low-slung and thus accentuate the car's dynamically stretched flanks. The dihedral doors open forwards and upwards, adding intrigue to the sports car design of the BMW i8.

The black belt on the BMW i8 emerges in a "V" shape from the bonnet and extends back over the roof into the rear section of the car, where it frames the centre section of the rear bumper. At the front end, the black belt is framed by the body-coloured apron and side panels, while at the rear it is overlapped by the floating roof pillars, extending over the rear lights.

The front view of the BMW i8 exudes sporting ability. Large front spoiler air intakes generate a feeling of depth. The broad BMW kidney grille stretches over to the slim headlights, accentuating the width of the BMW i8 and its road-focused stance. The car's full-LED headlights adopt the hallmark U-shape of BMW i models.

HONITON Angling club members had a couple of nice catches out from Beer.

John Stanford (main picture) is holding a cracking Brill of 6lb 1oz.

Jim Ogbourn (inset) holds a good size black bream.

Both fish were caught aboard Cyril Newtons boat blue lady.

These catches are proof again that the Lyme Bay reserve is working off Seaton and Lyme Regis, with fish starting to recolonise in these protected areas.

Amy Greenhalgh is Queen of the Mountain in Uplyme 10k

AXE VALLEY RUNNERS

with Dave Mutter

LAST Saturday the weather held for a glorious evening start to 29th running of the Haytor Heller 10K. Starting in the shadow of Haytor itself, the race starts with an exhausting uphill sprint to the base of the tor followed by 6 miles of challenging moorland and woodland with steep ascents and descents throughout, taking in Hound Tor before finally arriving back at Haytor for a downhill sprint finish after yet another climb to the foot of the tor.

A very respectable 13 AVR runners turned out for the race. Tim Lenton was 5th overall, 1st male vet 40 in 44:37, Graham Newton 41st, 55:17, 2nd male vet 60, a fast improving Cameron Hill 69th 59:05, Richard Hale 90th 1:02:09, Sam Wickens 98th, 1:03:34, Roger Bramley 102nd 1:03:44, Margaret Pearce 121st 1:04:46, Alan Morbey 127th 1:05:16, Anna McLoughlin 178th 1:10:49, Paul Tolchard 183rd 1:11:35, Chris Hill 186th 1:11:41 followed by Yvette Hill 227th 1:21:16 in only her first outing for the club and Diane Newton 250th, 1:28:18. In the team event – Tim Lenton, Graham Newton, Cameron Hill and Richard Hale – achieved 4th place overall. It was a fantastic evening's running, many thanks to Teignbridge Trotters for staging such an iconic race.

On a hot and humid Saturday afternoon James Jackson, Robin Carter and dog Ben went again to Dartmoor to do the North Bovey fair fell race. This short steep 260m 5.5km race climbs up via trails and moor to Easdon Tor trig then a nice decent over moor and forest track back to North Bovey. A cool river plus tea and cakes at the finish added to the pleasure. James and Ben came 1st overall in 29:02, Robin 1st lady in 36:48. It was a great little race all for £1 entry fee with a bonus of a lovely country fair.

We're not sure what's up with the weather these days, but the forecast for Mrs E's Wheeze on Sunday was a little off, to say the least. Anyway, at least it was better than predicted, rather than worse, and the race attracted nearly twice as many runners as last year for more hilly, scenic, multi-terrain joy around Uplyme. (Even the 2K litt'uns race incorporated a very respectable hill.)

AVR took most of the prizes in the somewhat-under-10K with Matt Clist first overall in 37:05; a minute faster than last year. Amy Greenhalgh first lady, 2nd AVR and 10th overall in 43:30, Phil Bayliss first old man, 14th overall in 44:25 and Eleanor Wood first senior lady in 48:50. Amy was also Queen of the Mountain for being first lady to the top of the starting climb of 500' ascent in just over a mile. Other AVR results were Rupert Pady 17th, 44:42; Joshua Hopson 18th, 45:04; Justin Sloman 28th, 47:49; Robin Britton 35th, 51:26; Mark Hilder 41st, 52:41; Nick Adams 51st, 55:54; Keith Agland 62nd, 59:53; Mark Harding-Perrott 68th, 1:01:42; Paul Hampton 71st, 1:03:30; Sue Venn 76th, 1:08:35 and Gary Readings 84th in 1:14:09.

In the not-quite-5K race, Bobby Simpson and Iain Ross were equal first in 21:59 (running in somewhat casually together!), Oliver Rodger 3rd, 23:44; Adam Burrough 4th, 24:02; William Watson 10th, 27:44; Ollie Brown 11th, 28:16 and Matt Thurgood 13th in 28:49. The not-quite-2K race saw a very exciting finish with Chris Watson trailing another runner on most of the finishing lap of the cricket pitch, but he did what he needed and overtook a few yards from the line to win in 7:13. Nancy Doble was 10th, 8:33 and Rosie Thurgood 29th in 10:23. Many thanks to Sarah Vincent and her army of helpers for putting on another excellent race.

LOCAL DRIVERS TAKE THE BATTLE TO THE COUNTRY'S BEST

THE highlight of the south-west's hill climb season is undoubtedly the visit of the country's premier series, the Avon Tyres/TTC Group British Hill Climb Championship, to Wiscombe Park this weekend (Saturday 26th and Sunday, July 27th). The main championship event with two exciting run-offs for the fastest twelve championship competitors will be on the Sunday whilst the previous day will see a separate event for local drivers plus the practice runs for those contesting the national championship.

Challengers for the title will be attacking the lead that the current championship leader Scott Moran has amassed so far this season. Competitors will be travelling from Scotland, Wales and the Channel Islands with the intent of claiming success.

Not all of the challengers have such extensive travelling arrangements however with many local drivers having the opportunity of comparing their prowess and skills with the best of British.

Two such drivers, who will share the same car are, Charminster's Rod Thorne and Andrew Forsyth from Shillingstone. Andrew, having driven the Pilbeam MP43 sports racer before at the Woolbridge Motor Club's Charmouth hill climb should acclimatise rapidly and be keeping the car's owner honest. The duo will have to face the challenge of the mighty Sylva Striker driven by Doug Bennett with 2.3 litre turbocharged power.

Favourite for success at Wiscombe this weekend is the 2012 British Champion Trevor Willis. Willis, the fastest driver to compete at Wiscombe having posted a new hill record at Wiscombe two years ago will be keen to close the gap at the top of the points table to Scott Moran who last weekend increased his lead in the championship standings to thirty points following events in the Channel Islands. Willis will take his OMS 28 chassis powered by a 3.2 litre Powertec V8 engine up against current third place man Will Hall aboard his 3.5 litre Nissan powered Force WH. The recent events in Jersey and Guernsey will see Alex Summers seeking to make up lost ground on Hall having occupied the third slot earlier in the season in his DJ Firehawk powered by a 1.34 litre supercharged Suzuki engine.

Added interest at Wiscombe will involve the ever developing battle of the lightweight carbon-fibre chassis, powered by highly developed motorcycle engines, which have been proving a match for the large capacity V8 powered machines. This was very much the case last week at Val Des Terres in Guernsey when Jos Goodyear took two wins in his GWR Raptor with a similar power plant to the DJ of Summers. The series only visits the south west's premier hill climb course at Wiscombe Park once during the season so spectators will be looking to the fastest driver/car combinations not only to be fighting each other but bidding for a new hill record should track conditions allow.

Although the focus of attention will be on these ultimate machines, there will be a huge supporting cast of saloon and sports cars. Included in the entry of over one hundred and twenty will be competitors contesting classes for saloon and sports cars. In addition there will be classes for vintage Austin Sevens, ◆ ROD Thorne will have two targets at the British Championship meeting at Wiscombe Park. One to be faster than Andrew Forsyth who will be co-driving the V8 powered Pilbeam MP43 and two, to challenge the times of the national series competitors.

Morgans and an eclectic mixture of Mini and Mini variants battling in the Downton Engineering Works Social Club category.

The Saturday event sees Dorchester's Steve Hills in action with his Renault Clio Cup whilst Wiscombe regulars Graham and Geoff Blake will contest both meetings in their rapid Westfield SEi in the Modified Specialist Production Car class. Two further drivers who will be giving of their all in both meetings of this weekend extravaganza of speed hill climbing will be Sylva Riot pilot Stewart Green from Frampton and Lyme Regis driver Ryan Moore in his Ford Puma.

Gates open for both meetings at 10am on Saturday and Sunday.

THE competition for Lady Captain's Day at Honiton this week was a cross between Super Mario and poker, with points being gained dependent on which member of the Royal Flush guarded the tee, and penalties deducted for such things as staying on the fairway and getting over a hazard (yes, that's right!). And, just to spice things up a bit, on some holes it was required to tee off with a putter or a wedge. So if you played your cards right, and did your sums correctly, you could end up with a good stableford score, which is exactly what winning team of three Lesley Farley, Chris Luttman and Ann Trayling did, taking 1st place with 88 stableford points. Second place went to team Chris Pearce, Susan Hyde and Jan Dickinson with 86 points. The 10 hole competition was won by Avril Shepherd, Pam Manning and June Hodge with 35 stableford points. Lady Captain's individual prize winner was Sharon Dacre. Well done Lady Captain, Elizabeth Davies, for providing us with a very different, but fun day's golf.

The event, held over two days, consisted of a ranking round of six dozen arrows and then team head to head elimination on the Saturday and then a 12 dozen round on the Sunday (3 dozen arrows at each of 90m, 70m, 50m, 30m for Gents and 70m, 60m, 50m and 30m for Ladies).
